Tim Tremblay On The Podium In His Return To The National Snocross Tour

Aurora, Minn. (February 19, 2018) After missing the last two rounds of the AMSOIL Championship Snocross while taking time to heal and recover, veteran racer Tim Tremblay returned to action at the U.S. Air Force National in Salamanca, New York with a third place podium finish at round nine on Friday night.

Tremblay's teammate Lincoln Lemieux followed him to the stripe in the Pro final finishing fourth, while Pro Lite racer Hunter Patenaude also secured the fourth spot in his main event. Sport racer Francis Pelletier kept his recent hot streak alive with a third place finish.

On Saturday, Tremblay made another impressive showing starting from the ninth spot and working his way up to fourth while closing in on the third place rider. Lemieux did not fare so well on the start dropping out of the top 10 on the opening lap but then put on a charge throughout the middle portion of the final to race his way back to seventh place.

Pelletier started his round 10 Sport final from the second gate and held that position throughout the eight laps, stepping up one spot from the previous night to second on the podium.

With four full-time racers now in the trailer, the entire time has really pulled together to keep our Ski-Doo machines on point and ready for each round of qualifying and racing.

While in New York the team made appearances at local high schools in conjunction with the U.S. Air Force to present Race To The Future Scholarships. We were also able to host several USAF personnel at the event in Salamanca, where they were the title sponsor.

Up next are rounds 11 and 12 from Mt. Pleasant, Michigan on February 23-23.
