Tremblay And Lemieux Build Momentum With Podiums At Canterbury Park

Aurora, Minn. (January 7, 2018) It was a breakout weekend for the Scheuring Speed Sports team with both Tim Tremblay and Lincoln Lemieux getting on the podium in the Pro class at the Canterbury Park National in Shakopee, Minnesota.

Tremblay raced to his first podium of the season on Friday night charging from the seventh position to finish third at the checkers. For a moment it looked as if both team riders could be sharing the podium as Lemieux was also running in the lead group before breaking a belt as he crossed the finish line on lap 10 of the nineteen lap final.

For Tremblay it marked a return to his old form after opening the season with an injury from a practice crash and then feeling under the weather at rounds three and four.

As disappointing as it was for Lemieux when he dropped out of Friday's race, he came back strong with a heat race win and podium finish on Saturday. It was his third of the season and he is in the thick of the championship battle in the AMSOIL Championship Snocross series, just a few points out of third overall.

This was by far the coldest race of the year with windchills well below zero, yet a large number of fans turned out at Canterbury Park, as they always do, to enjoy the action from the indoor seating that overlooks the horse racing facility.

The team made a visit to the Hastings, Minnesota High School prior to the race where we presented a Race to the Future Scholarship on behalf of the U.S. Air Force. We also hosted a number of Air Force personnel who made the trip from San Antonio, Texas to be with us during the weekend.

Up next is the U.S. Air Force National in Deadwood, South Dakota on January 19-20, 2018.
