Tim Tremblay Gains In Championship Chase Lincoln Lemieux Collects Podium In Round Six

Aurora, Minn. (January 11, 2016) Tim Tremblay was at the front of the pack challenging for the second spot when he landed on the side of a jump and was forced off the track during the opening night of AMSOIL Championship Snocross competition in Shakopee, Minnesota.

Tremblay, who is still suffering the effects of a holiday practice crash, re-entered the track and was able to grit his way to a fifth place finish scoring valuable points over the rider he is currently chasing in the championship. Teammate Lincoln Lemieux, who had to race his way into the final by way of the last chance qualifier, made a strong run to sixth place, right behind Tremblay.

On Saturday, Tremblay was the top qualifier which meant he would start the final with a late gate pick. After a mid-pack start, Tremblay held strong through the grueling main event where he would finish in sixth place.

Lemieux had a better start on Saturday and was quickly in the lead mix. When the second place rider had a big dismount in the closing laps, Lemieux gained the third overall position where he would finish on the podium.

As a result, Tremblay has moved to within six points of second place in the standings and Lemieux climbed one notch to seventh.

Pro Lite racer Max Taillefer had a rough time staying on his sled during the weekend both as a result of close contact and his own miscues. Taillefer was able to qualify for both class finals, however, finishing the weekend with 12th and eighth place scores.

In addition to all of the on-track action, the team was honored to host United States Air Force Major General Eugene Haase, who was on hand to swear in over 40 recruits from the region who will be joining the branch through the Delayed Entry Program. Gen. Haase also spent time with the team in the pit area and completed a couple of laps on the track following Saturday's program.
