Tim Tremblay Wins Third Straight Dominator Race Finishes Three Day Weekend On Podium

Aurora, Minn. (November 30, 2015) It required one extra round of competition, but Tim Tremblay made the most of his opportunities to transfer into the head-to-head AMSOIL Dominator final and race to his third straight $10,000 payday.

Tremblay was fast throughout the elimination rounds but fell short in the semi-final. The Dominator format provides a last chance showdown between the losers of the semi-final round, with that winner advancing to the back row of the three-man final. "I made a mistake on the start of the semi-final and the last chance race so I knew what I wanted to do in the final," said Tremblay.

Working from a hard-packed starting spot and utilizing the traction-grabbing performance of the new Ski-Doo pDrive clutch, Tremblay shot along side the front row competitors while racing up the mogul-filled uphill start, passing for the lead over the giant step-up jump and never looking back.

Tremblay capped the weekend by racing to a third place podium finish in Sunday's Pro Open final and is feeling good with an upcoming weekend off.

Lincoln Lemieux made his return to the track after missing much of last season with an injury. Lemieux was fast all weekend but was the victim of bad luck on several occasions. Lemieux was running near the front of Sunday's final when a coolant hose clamp broke putting an end to his day.

Pro Lite racer Max Taillefer who is racing with the team on a full-time basis this season qualified well throughout the weekend. Max was leading the Pro Lite final on Sunday and was defending his position through a corner at the mid-point of the race, when he was turned over by another competitor. To his credit, Taillefer remounted to finish 12th and will be a strong challenger for the class title this season.

Earlier in the week the team made our second school visit of the season at Denfeld High School in Duluth. Next week the team will focus on testing and training before travelling to AMSOIL Championship Snocross round 3 and 4 in Fargo, North Dakota on December 11-12.
