

Scheuring Speed Sports Expands Into Pro UTV Racing U.S. Air Force Named Title Sponsor

Aurora, Minn. (May 3, 2017) Snocross pioneer Steve Scheuring announced today the expansion of his team into Side by Side UTV racing in the TORC series. “We have partnered with the U.S. Air Force as our title sponsor for the summer program,” said Scheuring. In addition, support from Can-Am /BRP is going to allow us to showcase the Can-Am Maverick X3 Side by Side. This is an incredible machine that was introduced last year and has risen to the top in the world of UTV racing.”

“We’re pleased to partner with the Scheuring Speed Sports team for their inaugural season with the TORC Pro UTV Racing Series,” said Maj. Jacob L. Chisolm IV, chief of the National Events Branch at Headquarters Air Force Recruiting Service. Our involvement helps us connect with young people who love the passion, teamwork and technology of speed sports and build awareness for similar opportunities in the Air Force. It’s win-win for both of us.”

Also coming on board with the program is Western Power Sports and their Sedona brand tires and wheels. “We are excited to partner with Scheuring Speed Sports,” said Richard Kelsey, Sedona Tire & Wheel Brand Manager. Our Sedona Rock-A-Billy tires and our Sedona Split 6 Beadlocks are the perfect combo for Scheurings Can-Am x3. Their professional racing background and partnership with the United States Air Force is something we are proud to support.”

Team fabricator Elliot Burns will be piloting the U.S. Air Force/AMSOIL/Can-Am. Burns has extensive experience in the off-road world. Not only racing UTV’s but building Pro 4 , Pro 2, and Pro Lite trucks.

The team will also participate in off-track activations with the U.S. Air Force, including school visits, air shows, and other on-site promotions. We want to give our sponsors year-‘round exposure and put on a presence in off-road short course racing like we do at the AMSOIL Snocross Championship series. Our season kicks off June 10, at ERX Motor Park in Minneapolis Minnesota.
