Remote Deposit

The affordable Remote Deposit System.

Remote Deposit is the capture of check images and MICR information for the purpose of electronic transmission to a financial institution for deposit. Remote Deposit also referred to as Merchant Capture, eliminates the need for daily trips to the bank just to deposit checks received at your business. It not only reduces the trips to the bank but will increase funds availability, provides a check image archive and full feature research and reporting capabilities.

MirrorImage Remote Deposit utilizes a small desktop check scanner to transform your current paper based check deposit process into an image-based digital proof and electronic presentment workflow. Deposit items can be presented to your financial institution as an X9.37 file (the Federal Reserve Bank standard), as an ACH file, or a combination of ACH & X9.37.

Remote Deposit from Jaguar Software is available in a client version for large volume customers, a web version for normal volume, a home version for use with your document scanner and a mobile version for your cell phone. They all provide everything you need to transmit digital check images to your bank.
